

Events Calendar

Accurate, comprehensive, timely events calendar for wealth management

Our Events Calendar is a calendar of financial and investor-related corporate and institutional events designed for the global financial and risk community. With one of the longest events history and event libraries taking place daily, our dedicated teams are in touch with companies on an ongoing basis to ensure comprehensive and accurate updates. Our expanded list of event types (including general, political and economic) means users are able to monitor peer and industry events, gather company expectations from historical and current disclosures, and gain a fuller picture of a company’s financial performance to quickly identify changes.

Our Events Calendar service offers a one-stop corporate disclosures and brokerage event solution that gives you a full list of planned events, so that you know when you need to be paying attention to the companies of interest to you. Information disclosed during corporate events can be an essential source of data for your professional or client audience when analysing the market and making investment decisions. Management behaviours in earnings calls have also been shown to be predictive of future company performance. With such valuable information often identified through these calls, access to trustworthy data can make a difference.

Beyond our Events Calendar, LSEG has one of the largest electronic libraries of dial-in details and webcasts, and filing in-date information integrated for effective calendar estimation. Our close relationships with partners and exclusive access to other LSEG content such as deals, M&As and filings, ensures superior quality when considering events.

Our Events Calendar extensive value-add

Our Events Calendar can make a difference to you – whether you are a private banker or an ultra-high net worth (UHNW) investor, a financial advisor, a self-directed investor or an active trader. There are a range of reasons why having access to our accurate, comprehensive and timely Events Calendar can make a valuable addition to your data sets.

Indicate market-moving activity	Work alongside other data to predict market impact	Assess risk when making decisions
Events provide first insights into how companies are performing through earnings calls, M&A calls, corporate conferences, roadshows etc. and are often followed by market activity on their share price. Such events are unique moments in companies’ calendars when both the market and the company management itself interact with real authenticity.	This data, combined with other LSEG content such as estimates, pricing and deals, can be critical to build up prediction and trading models.	Information disclosed during events can be an essential source of data for analysts and investors in decision-making. Management behaviours in earnings calls have been shown to be highly predictive of future company performance.
