

Trading Flow

Real-time market intelligence powered by
Exponential Technology

Our solution

Markets are moving fast and staying ahead means understanding what's driving them in real time. This isn't always easy. While retail trades may be visible, institutional flows are harder to break down.

With Trading Flow, you get a cross-asset view of trading activity, segmented by investor type. It shows you what's moving markets and where they're headed, minute by minute.

Powered by LSEG's premium data and Exponential Technology's (XTech) expertise in advanced analytics and trading behaviour, Trading Flow reveals the trader behind every trade. It turns raw order book activity into long-term alpha signals, giving you an edge that a trading floor would find hard to match.

Key features

- Minute-by-minute flows, broken down by investor type (and strategy, in some cases) for:
 - Equities – US (NYSE, Nasdaq, ARCA/AMEX)
 - Equity Options – US, entire OPRA feed
 - ETFs – all US ETFs
 - Futures – Global (futures is a daily snapshot rather than minute-by-minute) From 5+ years (futures) to 17+ years (equities & ETFs).
- XTech, by leveraging their advanced machine learning and AI expertise, are able to infer – based on signals left behind by trading activity – what type of trader is behind every trade on the tape.
- The 300 most traded futures products globally (all expiries). This covers financials, agriculture, energy, precious metals, base metals and much more
- Best-in-class market data from LSEG including Tick History and PCAP feeds.
- Deep industry and technology expertise.
