Section 4

Periodic review of constituents

4. Periodic review of constituents

4.1.1 At review the universe will be composed of constituents from the FTSE US All Cap Index (Large Cap, Mid Cap, and Small Cap) to determine the eligible universe.

4.2 Annual review

4.2.1 The FTSE High Dividend Yield Index will be reviewed annually.

4.3 Quarterly Review for zero dividends

4.3.1 Companies which have cut dividends to zero will be removed on a quarterly basis.

4.4 Review methodology

The constituents of the index will be selected from the underlying universe by:

1. Removing all real estate investment trusts (REITs -ICB 351020).⁵
2. Removing all stocks that are not currently paying a dividend and/or removing all stocks that are not forecast to pay dividends over the next 12 months.
 - For existing index constituents that have not distributed a dividend during the 12 month period prior to the cut-off date due to an irregular payment schedule, an additional screen will be conducted to check if there was a dividend payment in a 13 month period prior to the cut-off date and is a future dividend payment scheduled post the data cut-off date.
3. Additional proprietary screens are also applied.

4.5 12 Month forward dividend yield

The dividend yield data used in the review calculation is based on one-year dividends per share forecasts/estimates divided by the underlying share price.

⁵ FTSE indexes migrated to the new ICB classification system in March 2021.

Section 5

Constituent changes outside of a review

5. Constituent changes outside of a review

5.1 Intra-review additions

5.1.1 There will be no intra-review additions to this index.

5.2 Intra-review deletions

5.2.1 If a constituent is removed from the FTSE US All Cap Index, then it will be removed from the FTSE High Dividend Yield Index. The removal will be concurrent with the removal of the stock from the underlying index. Intra-review deletions will not be replaced.

5.2.2 If a constituent converts to a REIT intra-review and its ICB classification changes to REIT (ICB sector 8670) it will remain a constituent of the FTSE High Dividend Yield Index until the next periodic review.

Section 6

Corporate actions and events

6. Corporate actions and events

- 6.1 Full details of changes to constituent companies due to corporate actions and events can be accessed in the Corporate Actions and Events Guide using the following link:

Corporate Actions and Events Guide.pdf

A Corporate 'Action' is an action on shareholders with a prescribed ex date. The share price will be subject to an adjustment on the ex date. These include the following:

- Capital Repayments
- Rights Issues/Entitlement Offers
- Stock Conversion
- Splits (sub-division)/Reverse splits (consolidation)
- Scrip issues (Capitalisation or Bonus Issue)

A Corporate 'Event' is a reaction to company news (event) that may impact the index depending on the index rules. For example, a company announces a strategic shareholder is offering to sell their shares (secondary share offer) – this could result in a free float weighting change in the index. Where an index adjustment is required FTSE Russell will provide notice advising of the timing of the change.

6.2 Shares in issue

Changes to the number of shares in issue for constituent securities are covered in the Corporate Actions and Events Guide.

6.3 Investability weightings

Changes to free float for constituent securities are covered in the Corporate Actions and Events Guide

6.4 Spin-offs

If a constituent company is split and forms two or more companies by issuing new equity to existing shareholders, then the resulting companies will be eligible to continue as constituents in the index providing they pass the criteria outlined in the underlying Index Ground Rules.

6.5 Suspension of dealing

- 6.5.1 Suspension of dealing rules can be found within the Corporate Actions and Events Guide.

6.6 Mergers, restructuring and complex takeovers

- 6.6.1 If two existing constituents merge and the newly formed constituent will remain in the FTSE High Dividend Yield Index in line with the FTSE US All Cap Index.
- 6.6.2 If an existing index constituent is acquired by a non-constituent, the company will be removed from the FTSE High Dividend Yield Index.
- 6.6.3 If an existing index constituent acquires a non-constituent, it will remain in the FTSE High Dividend Yield Index if the newly merged company remains a constituent in the FTSE US All Cap Index.
- 6.6.4 If an index constituent has a complex reorganization or de-merger, the newly spun-off company will remain the FTSE High Dividend Yield Index as long as it remains a constituent in the FTSE US All Cap Index.

Section 7

Algorithm and calculation method

7. Algorithm and calculation method

7.1 Delivery

The FTSE High Dividend Yield Index will be available on a real time (price return only) basis in USD. Total Return will be available on an end of day basis in USD.

7.2 Algorithm

The FTSE High Dividend Yield Index is calculated using the algorithm described below.

$$\sum_{i=1}^N \frac{(p_i \times e_i \times s_i \times f_i)}{d}$$

Where,

- $i=1,2,\dots,N$
- N is the number of securities in the index.
- p_i is the latest trade price of the component security (or the price at the close of the index on the previous day).
- e_i is the exchange rate required to convert the security's currency into the index's base currency.
- s_i is the number of shares in issue used by FTSE Russell for the security, as defined in these Ground Rules.
- f_i is the Investability Weighting Factor to be applied to a security to allow amendments to its weighting, expressed as a number between 0 and 1, where 1 represents a 100% free float. This factor is published by FTSE Russell for each security in the underlying index.
- d is the divisor, a figure that represents the total issued share capital of the index at the base date. The divisor can be adjusted to allow changes in the issued share capital of individual securities to be made without distorting the index.
