FTSE Global Digital Asset Indices

In association with Digital Asset Research

FTSE Russell's flagship digital asset index series captures the large, mid, small and micro-cap segments of the market. The FTSE Digital Asset Index Series leverages the FTSE DAR Benchmark Assets Reference Price. This underlying pricing employs a methodology designed to capture data from vetted assets and exchanges to meet the requirements of EU Benchmarks.

In addition, fundamental to the index methodology, ongoing monitoring of exchanges and assets is provided by the experts at Digital Asset Research.

The FTSE Global Digital Asset Indices can be used as a starting universe, performance benchmarks or the basis for index-linked products such as derivatives and Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs).

FTSE Digital Asset Staking Indices

In association with Digital Asset Research

The FTSE Digital Asset Staking Index Series leverages data directly sourced from protocol nodes by Digital Asset Research. Each protocol has a Proof-of-Stake Consensus Mechanism that rewards holders of the tokens that participate in this process. The underlying mechanism is unique to each protocol. Please see the methodology documents for full details on how the reward data is collected, reported and implemented in the corresponding index.

FTSE Grayscale Crypto Sector Indices

In association with Digital Asset Research

The FTSE Grayscale Crypto Sector Index Series offers you a new way of thinking about the digital asset market, providing a comprehensive framework that allows you to measure the performance of the expanding crypto universe.

The index series seeks to bring clarity to this rapidly evolving asset class by identifying five distinct sectors that can be used as a roadmap to navigate the digital asset universe:

- Currencies
- Smart Contract Platforms
- Financials
- Consumer and Culture
- Utilities and Services

An overarching governance framework has been established to effectively oversee FTSE Russell digital asset indices, from pricing data to index maintenance. FTSE Russell and Grayscale will reassess the sectors and their constituents quarterly to reflect the dynamic nature of the crypto asset class.
