

Reminder: Rebranding of the FTSE MTS Bond Index Series and Index Decommissions

On October 26, 2021 we announced that the FTSE MTS Bond Index Series will be rebranded to remove references to MTS. We would like to remind clients that the name change will come into effect on 31 March, 2022.

FTSE MTS Bond Index Series Rebranding

The FTSE MTS Bond Index Series will be renamed the FTSE Eurozone Bond Index Series.

The names of the indices will no longer include a reference to MTS and change from “FTSE MTS Eurozone [Name of Index]” to “FTSE Eurozone [Name of Index]”.

For example, the “FTSE MTS Eurozone Government Bill 0-12 Month Index” will become “FTSE Eurozone Government Bill 0-12 Month Index”. Legacy references to the “CNO” and “Bank of Italy” will also be removed.

A full list of the current index names and new index names can be found in Appendix 1.

Implementation of the Index Series Rebranding

The rebranding process for FTSE Russell index publications, data files and platforms has commenced, with the transition targeted for completion by 31 March 2022.

Clients and vendors should take the necessary steps to reflect the new branding, and update associated materials and platforms by 31 March 2022.

FTSE MTS Bond Index Series Decommissions

On October 26, 2021 FTSE Russell announced that several of the indices within the MTS Series will be decommissioned, effective 31 March 2022. Following the announcement, and in response to client feedback, the list of indexes targeted for decommission has been revised. An updated list can be found in Appendix 2.

Any questions?

FTSE Russell continues to review index construction-related feedback received via the consultation and will announce changes, if any, to the index methodology in due course.
