

Monte Titoli has been granted the license to operate under EU Central Securities Depositories Regulation.

Monte Titoli, a leading company in post-trade services and part of the London Stock Exchange Group, has obtained from the Consob Supervisory Authorities and the Bank of Italy, the authorization to provide services as a central depository in accordance with the CSDR Regulation (EU) n. 909/2014.

The CSDR strives to create a harmonized regulatory framework for European CSDs, ensuring a level playing field across all. Moreover, the CSDR promotes the safety and efficiency of the European securities settlement landscape.

The achievement of the CSDR certification once again confirms Monte Titoli as a secure, well-governed, resilient and extremely reliable market infrastructure within the European post-trade sector.

Monte Titoli has consistently pursued the adoption of the CSDR considering the benefits for its customers. Transparency and user participation have always been important objectives for Monte Titoli and the CSDR certification confirms the measures already adopted.

Mauro Dognigni CEO of Monte Titoli has commented: “obtaining the CSDR license is further testament of Monte Titoli’s commitment to providing a service excellence to its customers. I am proud of this important achievement and particularly of all the people in Monte Titoli who have worked hard to achieve this milestone. A special thank you also goes to the authorities for the solid collaboration we have established in these years.
