Subject: X-TRM service – test environment unavailable

Dear client,

I inform you that X-TRM test environment will not be available in the period between 14 and 20 May; during this period it will not be possible to send instructions to settlement systems and CCPs due to internal test sessions.

I also underline that information generated by test environment (ACB and ROM) during the aforementioned period should not be taken into consideration as it will include only reference to instructions simulated by us.

For any further detail please contact our Service Operation at the e-mail address itps@montetitoli.it

Kind regards
